Light Vehicle Trip Permit

Allows the use of unregistered Passenger vehicles in Oregon (8,000 pounds or less combined weight);

Recreational Vehicle Permit

This includes the use of unregistered Campers; Travel trailers; or Motor homes.

Heavy Motor Vehicle and Trailer Permit

Grants the use of unregistered Motor vehicles with a registration weight (ORS 801.420) over 8,000 pounds

Registration Weight Trip Permit

Grants the use of Oregon-registered vehicles at a higher weight than the existing registration allows.

Registered Vehicle Trip Permit

Grants the use of Oregon-registered vehicles under conditions, or in ways not allowed with the current registration.

Snowmobile Out-Of-State Residents

This permit grants the use of a snowmobile in Oregon when the owner is a resident of another state and the snowmobile is not registered.

Trip Permit from Another State

You can operate a vehicle in Oregon using your valid trip permit from another state. This means that you don't need to get a specific Oregon permit! However, you must keep proof of insurance in the vehicle.

To apply for your Oregon trucking permit online, you will be asked to provide the following information:

- USDOT#
- Driver name
- Truck information (Unit#, VIN#, License plate#, current Odometer)
- If truck is leased or purchased. If it is leased, leasing company name.
- The route which you will take to enter and exit Oregon, and also if you have any stops
- Zip codes of locations, if you have drop off or pick up

FUEL TAX

When a truck purchases fuel in the state of Oregon, they are required to report and file fuel taxes. In order to do so, trucks must have an Oregon fuel tax permit.

There really isn't much to obtaining an Oregon trip or fuel tax permit online when you let our skillful trucking team members handle it for you. Simply call and speak to one of our representatives and have your paperwork completed in a timely manner. Our Oregon trucking experts are always happy to help you get the best services.

IFTA Fuel Tax

The International Fuel Tax Agreement, also known as IFTA, is another method to track fuel use by motor carriers that operate in more than one state between Canada and the United States. We can help you register and file IFTA as well! Don't lose your license because you forgot, or don't know how to properly file your IFTA taxes.

Besides, who has time for all that paperwork? We do. Leave it to the online Oregon trucking experts!
